At Frontline Source Group, we understand that you have plenty of agencies to choose from and it's going to be our People, Process and Service® that will set us apart. Industry standard for most agencies making a direct hire placement is to guarantee it for 90 days. Not with Frontline. Because we know you will hire top talent from our firm, we also recognize that our candidate will shine and soon be promoted. With Frontline we love this scenario because once again we are here to help you find that replacement with our warranty.

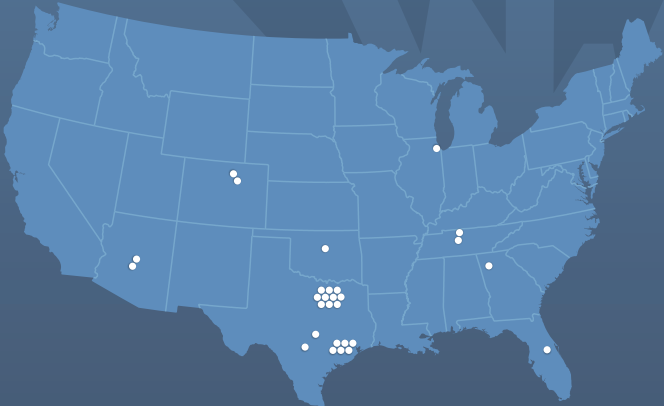

Frontline is committed to providing the highest quality service to both our clients and candidates through a relationship-based, respectful approach.
